A note from the Education Director...

Hello parents, families, friends, and students!

My name is Courtney Jacobs and I am the Education Director here at kidsActing. I want to first thank you all for your support during such a unique and quite frankly crazy year. Though the Covid pandemic has hit the world in many different ways, one of the hardest hit organizations was that of live performance and theatre. So many beautiful theatres and programs have had to shut down in the past year, and if it weren't for the incredible support from our loyal families and local Austin community, kidsActing could have seen the same result. But fortunately we are here - in clear masks and all! - ready to perform for you!

Though this performance looks a bit different from our typical performances (no masks, live on the stage with a 160+ person audience) we have no doubt put just as much effort into this final performance with our students than ever before, and we hope you can see that hard work and passion from our teaching artists and diligent staff members as you watch today's video. We spent our entire quarantined year practically "re-inventing the wheel" of theatre and trying to put our students' needs first so they could still walk away from this experience with a sense of pride, self confidence, and theatre education.

Thank you again for your support, and we hope you'll be able to join us either this summer for a fun camp, or in the fall for what we are hoping is a "normal" musical production performance - going "back to basics" with live performances and audience members for our shows. But regardless of what the future may bring, we will always look back on and cherish this very special year at kidsActing when our kiddos donned their clear masks and made a movie of their final performance for all to see.

We hope you enjoy the show!!!

CONGRATULATIONS,
ELLA!
